

Rosewall Neighbourhood Centre Nurturing Individuals & Community

Rosewall NC has a dedicated bunch of men from the local area who participate in all aspects of the centre including working in the community kitchen, teaching art, attending playgroup with their kids & sitting on the Committee of Management

“The art program is very popular and is well attended by some local men. We know it is a success because they keep coming back”

“They also like to be able to show their art and this has really positive mental health outcomes for the participants”

“The male students like the art class - the tutor is very skilled and sensitive to the different people in the room.”

Quotes from Gabby Brennan Centre Manager

There is a youth worker at the house who supports some of the young dads. He helps people aged 15 – 24 to reengage with education.

There are also some older male volunteers in the over-55 category
